I promise to be a peacemaker
By the thoughts I hold in my head
By what I say throughout the day
The pathway that I tread
I promise to be a peacemaker
By making the time and space
To live in peace and thus release
The simple gift of grace

Thoughts are the seeds of tomorrow
Words are true gold made of light
Deeds are the way to weave the dream
To make our future bright

I promise to be a peacemaker
By the vision I hold in my heart
Hope to free humanity
The chance to play a part
Together we make the possible
Together we build as one
We promise to forge a chain of light
For the children yet to come

Thoughts are the seeds of tomorrow
Words are true gold made of light
Deeds are the way to weave the dream
To make our future bright

I promise to be a peacemaker
By making the time and space
To live in peace and thus release
The simple gift of grace
To live in peace and thus release
The simple gift of grace
